SUTTON BONINGTON

Sutton Bonington is a village and civil parish lying along the valley of the River Soar in the Borough of Rushcliffe, south-west Nottinghamshire and just above the Leicestershire border.

A pretty village to drive or indeed walk through and well served for its size with small shops, two churches, post office, library and coffee shop.

The nearest town is Loughborough and the nearby villages of Kegworth and East Leake also offer a good range of additional facilities including a wider range of shopping and schooling.

The broader location is excellent for transport links, having East Midlands International airport close by and rail links to Nottingham, Leicester and London St Pancras available from Loughborough station.

LIME GARDENS

WILLIAM DAVIS; Lime Gardens is our most eco-friendly development yet, with solar panels, Hive Smart Heating Systems, EV charging points to every home and the highest Energy Performance Certificate 'A' rating for efficiency – meaning lower carbon emissions and lower heating bills, which is great for the planet as well as your pocket.

From schools, nurseries, churches and libraries to cafes, restaurants, salons and barbers, most of life's essentials are all within a 5 minute drive of Lime Gardens. So, whether you're a couple, growing family or looking to downsize to a more peaceful location, there is something for everyone at Sutton Bonington.

We're celebrating 90 years of building stunning homes and creating welcoming communities, to celebrate with us, you can reserve your dream home for only £90 throughout 2025.
